- Complete daily reports, quantity tracking, equipment utilization reporting, and production records.
- Communicate productivity challenges and schedule impacts to Superintendents and Project Management.
- Assist with planning and resource allocation to maintain operational efficiency.
- project schedules and critical path requirements.
- Coordinate clearing and forestry activities to support downstream pipeline construction operations.
- Identify and communicate project constraints, risks, and delays.
- Ensure work progresses according to approved plans and project milestones.
- Ensure field compliance with Environmental Protection Plans (EPPs), wildlife mitigation requirements, crossing permits, and regulatory obligations.
- Monitor environmentally sensitive work areas and ensure crews understand project restrictions.
- Work closely with environmental inspectors and project representatives.
- Ensure environmental incidents and concerns are reported and addressed promptly.
- Interpret survey layouts, right-of-way boundaries, centreline stationing, offsets, and construction drawings.
- Ensure crews remain within approved work areas and project limits.
- Protect survey control points and construction reference markers.

- Coordinate and oversee hand-falling operations where required.
 - Ensure compliance with WorkSafeBC regulations, forestry safety standards, and approved work procedures.
 - Participate in hazard assessments and work planning activities for forestry operations.
 - Support safe execution of work in challenging terrain and remote environments.
 - Lead daily safety meetings, toolbox talks, inspections, and hazard assessments.
 - Promote a proactive safety culture through visible leadership and engagement.
 - Ensure compliance with company, client, and regulatory safety requirements.
 - Participate in incident investigations and corrective action implementation.
 - Serve as a safety leader and role model for all field personnel.
 - Maintain accurate daily reports, safety documentation, environmental records, and production tracking information.
 - Communicate effectively with Superintendents, Project Managers, clients, environmental personnel, and subcontractors.
 - Support project reporting requirements and field documentation standards.

Qualifications & Experience:

- 5+ years of experience in forestry, pipeline right-of-way construction, resource road construction, heavy civil construction, or related industries.
- Previous supervisory experience leading crews in remote operating environments.
- Strong understanding of unit-rate production work and daily quantity tracking.
- Experience working on schedule-driven projects with critical path milestones.
- Working knowledge of pipeline construction sequencing and right-of-way operations.
- Understanding of Environmental Protection Plans (EPPs), environmental regulations, wildlife mitigation requirements, and permit compliance.
- Ability to read and interpret right-of-way survey layouts, construction drawings, and project plans.
- Working knowledge of hand-falling operations and forestry safety requirements.
- Strong communication, leadership, organizational, and problem-solving skills.
- Experience completing field documentation, daily reporting, and production tracking.
